Requires Additional Help at Pumping Station—Chinese Laundries Ask For Lower Water Rate

The regular meeting of the town council held in the council chamber last Monday evening. Mayor Best was in the chair and the following members present: Councillors Lord, Goss, Howard, Lavelle, Oates and McLean.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting the mayor the mayor suggested that as Mr. Bryant was present the council should go into the matter of the spur track about which has been so much trouble lately. His worship said this was a matter which should be carefully dealt with as it was of importance to all industries in town and whatever was done would be a precedent for other concerns to be governed by.

The agreement between the town and the Clay Products Company, made some time ago, was read by Mr. Bryant and read to the council.

This brought out some discussion in which Councillor Lavelle pointed out that as he was on the council at the time the matter of purchasing this spur track was first brought up, he was convinced it was not the intention of the town council to relieve the company run their share of the rent of the spur.

The matter was laid over until further information could be secured.

A letter was read from H. O'Hara, Toronto asking for particulars regarding what bonds the town had for sale. The secretary informed the council that he had answered the inquiry giving the information asked for.

A letter was read from Davidson & Beattie, solicitors of Medicine Hat, re adjustment of taxes which had been paid by them when they were acting as agents. The clerk was authorized to adjust the matter.

A letter was read from all the Chinese laundries asking for some reduction of the water rates. They claimed they were being overcharged on account of not having sewer connection. The matter was favorably commented on by the council and was referred to the water committee.

The engineer brought to the attention of the council the fact that at the present time there was much more water used by the industries than ever before and as a result the pumping station was being run night and day. This necessitated additional help, and acting on the advice of the engineer, he had engaged an assistant for the time being. This was confirmed by council.

This brought up the question of the present equipment at the pumping station and it was the unanimous opinion of the council that the time was not far distant when some additional equipment must be added to keep up with the growing demand for water.

Some accounts as passed by the finance committee were read and endorsed.

Mayor Hawthorne Visits Glass Plant

Mayor Hawthorne, of Medicine Hat, and Mr. Goffrey, the city auditor, were in town today looking over the industries in operation here. It was Mayor Hawthorne's first visit to the glass plant and he was greatly impressed with the volume of business being done here. The process of bottlemaking was a revelation to him and he says he is sure to visit again to see the plant in full swing.

Mr. Sissons Moves House From Phoenix

H. J. Sissons has had a fine frame house moved from Lockwood up to his late on Eighth street. When interviewed by the Review as to what he intended doing with the house Mr. Sissons said he had nothing to publication at present. He also said something about the minister giving all the information in due season but as he was very busy and somewhat quiet we refrain from giving any hints just now.

Another Accident on Quebec Bridge

The huge central span of the new Quebec bridge, which was to have finally closed up Canada's transcontinental railway, and which had been under construction since 1906, collapsed last Monday morning while being lowered into its place between the two cantilever arms, and slipped to the bottom of the St. Lawrence, carrying to their death at least nine men.

About 11 o'clock on Monday morning the huge central span, which, twelve years ago, was lowered into its place between the two cantilever arms, and slipped to the bottom of the St. Lawrence, carrying to their death at least nine men.

Threshing is Now In Full Swing

Threshing has started in this district this week and now at least three outfits are hard at it. Three more outfits started out today and as most of the cutting is done in the district threshing will likely be general next week. The weather at present is all that could be desired for the branch of the harvesting operations.

Food Prices Show Big Rise Since War

The great rise in prices during the war is shown in a report just issued by the department of labor, which also compares the prices of grain and potatoes in 1914 with the prices in other countries.

In Canada the wholesale prices of 272 commodities averaged more than 8 per cent higher than in 1914 and 9 per cent higher in 1912, while the retail prices had risen 10 per cent during the same period.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED GRAIN AND POTATOES.

The distribution of grain will be made in the form of seed grain, while the potatoes will be distributed in the form of seed potatoes.

Definite News of Sam Miller's Fate

Although Sam Miller was reported missing some time ago, the Review has already reported that, having made the supreme sacrifice, letters and reports coming from the front were such as to give his relatives and friends here some hope that he might still be in the flesh. As the result they left no stone unturned in an endeavor to get some definite news of him. Their efforts have at last been rewarded but the finding leaves no doubt that Sam is now resting in a soldier's grave in France.

The lieutenant for whom Sam has been acting as orderly wrote a letter to a friend here in which he says: "When the fight on June 2nd took place I was in England and I immediately came back I started inquiries as to Sam's fate but only the other day did I find out anything at all definite. The 7th battalion found his body and gave it a soldier's funeral."

In concluding his letter the lieutenant says: "The only consolation one can find is that he died the best death one can die—for his country."

J. C. N. Davis Gets Hun Gas

G. M. Davis is in receipt of a letter this week from his brother, J. C. N. Davis, who is in England and is with the 5th battalion. He has been transferred to the engineer corps and has been on duty in France since last March. Eight weeks ago he was invalided home to England suffering from gas, but at the time of writing was greatly improved. Since the last big fight in which they were engaged Davis met A. McLean and he said they were all right at that time. When in Redfick Davis was employed at the Redfick & Coal plant and also at the Pressed Brick. He is well known here.

Farrar's Bail Fixed at $10,000

Samuel Farrar, of Medicine Hat, who has been committed to jail on a charge of abduction will be released on $10,000 bail pending his trial which will take place at the fall session. Mr. Justice Sissons granted Farrar's bail on condition that he should give the amount on application of Farrar's counsel, Mr. Bell appeared for the accused and R. E. Brune for the crown. Up to the present we understand no securities are forthcoming and Farrar is still in custody.

How to Conserve The Soil Fertility

The soil is the one great factor of production not only of agriculture but of the nation's welfare, and it is practically impossible to spend an excess and care on its cultivation and maintenance. Therefore any knowledge that results from experience as of the greatest value. A deal of information acquired from such experience is contained in Bulletin No. 2, second series, entitled "Soil fertility, its economic maintenance and increase," just issued by the department of agriculture, which can be had free by application to the publications branch of the department at Ottawa.

Britain Prepared Coming to Redcliff

Our readers have, no doubt, read a great deal lately about the great assistance of the British Empire in "Britain Prepared." With the help of M. O. (Oxford) of the Empire, the British Empire has been trying for some time to arrange to have these films shown here and we are pleased to announce that we have at last been successful in arranging for a date.

At the present time these pictures are especially interesting, educational and instructive to both young and old alike and in order that both may have an opportunity of seeing them in the best advantage it has been arranged to put on an afternoon and evening show.

The date secured is for Saturday, Sept. 23rd. As the school will not interfere with this date and as there will be no doubt be a rush for the evening show we would strongly advise that a special effort be made to get the children to the matinee.

Rebekahs to Hold Anniversary Service

Dick Hodge Says Germans Are Beaten

Lance-Corporal Dick Hodge, writing from the front, speaks of the great progress being made by the allies recently. He says the Hun allies now they are beaten but that the end of the war is by no means in sight yet. There will be a lot of hard fighting yet, he says, the allies can afford to take their time and not sacrifice on no account.

Canadian Division Uphold Reputation

In talking of the recent fight in which the Canadians were engaged, a London report says: "Putting up the hardest fight they ever have done; writing new history somewhere on the Somme, a name that will always be an historic one in Canada; doing things in an attack which hitherto only done in defence, two veteran companies of Canadians have more than upheld their reputation. They have made good all along with the cream of British fighting regiments somewhere in the fighting scene. The losses have been light, according to news that has reached here. In that fight the Canadian division has done all that Australia did, perhaps more."

General News Notes From Various Points

The French merchant marine has gone into the war with a spirit of the German's submarine warfare.

The Canadian government has received a communication from the St. Lawrence Bridge company, in which the company takes full responsibility for the bridge disaster, and the company will bear all the loss, and will recommence work on the new span at an early date.

The War and National Ideas

The above is the title of a lecture which is to be given in the Presbyterian church here Friday evening, Sept. 15, by the Rev. C. H. Huels, M. A., D. D.

This will be a timely discussion on the great question of the day. The following are a few of the questions which will be taken up and explained: What are we fighting for? What is German "Kultur"? Why cannot the Germans understand us? The war and democracy. The war and religion. The war and prophecy. The world's new year and the age to come.

At the conclusion a collection will be taken for the Lord's Day Alliance fund.

Further Leave for Harvest Soldiers

Strong pressure has been brought by military men not to grant leave, as it has interfered, and is seriously interfering with training and maintaining high morale, but in deference to urgent requests from the west it has been decided to permit further extensions of leave to be granted up to October 20th, and such will be granted without pay and without loss of pay.

Numerous complaints have been received that men on leave are not actually employed and it is hoped that this will be remedied by the conditions attached to further extensions.

Canadians Again In Thick of Fighting

The Canadian troops recently drafted to the Somme front are again in the thick of the fight. Though details are not yet available, the casualty lists for the week end indicate conclusively that our forces have been engaged in a big offensive. The losses, which are in the neighborhood of, but considerably under 1,000, have been sustained. The number of wounded is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 1,000, but considerably under 1,000.

THE WAR LOAN.

The second big Canadian government war loan is now before the people of Canada for public subscription.

While there is no doubt that the Canadian patriotic sentiment alone could be depended upon to insure the success of this issue, the government has been particular in fixing the terms of the issue to prevail financial conditions with the effect of making the offering attractive from a purely investment standpoint.

There is no doubt that this loan which is for the purpose of raising funds for Canada's war expenditure, will meet with the same loyal and generous response which made the first war loan so strikingly successful.

The government's advertisement for this loan appears in this issue of the Review. A perusal of it will show they are a good investment. There is nothing sure—not even death and taxes—consequently we would advise any who have any loose change for investment to purchase some of these bonds. By so doing you are not only making a good investment but also you will be helping to finance your country through these trying times.

A WRONG IMPRESSION.

The Toronto Globe under the heading "Western Canadian Trade," deals with what it says is the condition of the western industries. Among other places Redcliff is mentioned but if the Globe's reports about other places are not any more accurate than it is about this town the whole article is very misleading.

For instance, in dealing with the Glass plant here the Globe's article says: "Another indirect effect of the war is in solving the problem in the western provinces upon the manufacturing industry is to be seen at the Dominion Glass at Redcliff." It goes on to state that this plant is making nothing but a very limited number of bottles for the soft drink plants of Medicine Hat.

As everybody who has ever visited this plant in the past year knows this is not the case. Up until this plant closed down part of its machinery for the summer holidays in compliance with the Glass Workers Union rules, it was turning out all kinds of glass goods from the smallest drug bottle up to the largest preserving glass, besides lamp glasses, lantern glasses and beer bottles. Nor were the latter used only by the soft drink concerns of Medicine Hat, but they were shipped to all centres from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast, and so great has been the demand that the plant has had to exert every energy to keep up with the orders.

This plant will open up full force again the end of this month with a complete night and day staff.

As the Globe's article said nothing about other industries which have been and are running night and day we can only conclude that its author got his information from some second hand source, and it evidently was a source from which nothing favorable to Redcliff emanates.

THE MARKET OUTLOOK.

All things being considered it looks as though the best time for farmers to sell grain this year will be right from the separator. Of course that is provided it keeps any where near the present market price.

To be sure, there is a great decrease on this continent this year as compared with the production last year but there are many other things to be considered as well.

According to a grain expert who has just returned from a special trip to Russia to investigate the grain situation there, there are millions of bushels in that country which have been stored up for the last two years. The entrance of Roumania into the war on the side of the allies and the success of the Russians in gaining a foothold in Serbia, point to an early outlet for these Russian stores.

Then again there is the urban side of our population to be considered. The steady advances in prices in all lines is beginning to be so felt by the laboring classes that even now they are asking for some protection from our government by way of government control of food stuffs at least.

In this wheat plays a most important part, as it supplies the staff of life. Wheat at anything over a dollar a bushel means a good paying profit to the farmer. In these trying times, therefore, when the tradesman and the artisan who are doing their bit for the empire, have also to be considered, it would be quite within the bounds of possibility, if the worst came to the worst, for our governments to regulate the prices of foodstuffs and place them on a basis which would be fair and reasonable for all concerned.

We do not say that this is going to happen but movement is on foot now in that direction and this a time when strange things are happening.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY.

W. J. Black, the recently appointed commissioner of agriculture, has announced a novel scheme which he would like to see consummated.

His plan is one, the carrying out of which would be in line with views frequently expressed in these columns, and one which would go a long way in solving the wheat land problem in this district.

Mr. Black's idea is to end speculation in farm lands and to provide for continuous rather than scattered settlements. With this end in view he proposes that settlement boards, appointed jointly by the federal and provincial governments, be organized in the various provinces; that these boards have legislative authority to take over any uncultivated land suitable for agricultural purposes, paying for the same a fair price based on present values; that in case of lands not taken over for five years from now, the price shall be present value, plus fair interest.

On the lands taken over, it is proposed that men with families shall be allowed to settle and that such settlers be given a long time, say 10 years, in which to pay for the land located upon. The settlement so formed shall be continuous, that is there shall be no "spreading out." It is also contemplated, to prevent speculation, that the holders shall not be allowed to dispose of their holdings until a certain proportion has actually been brought into cultivation.

There is no place in Canada better suited for Mr. Black's plan than in this scheme than right around here. He might consider the matter if it were brought to his attention.

Some people who have occasion to drive horses in town have formed a very bad habit of driving over the sidewalks whenever it is convenient for them to do so. As a result many sidewalks have been broken and the town has been put to the expense of repairing them. With crosswalks placed at all the corners in town there is no excuse for this carelessness and the town authorities, we understand, intend making an example of the next one caught at it.

A Manitoba apple dealer is complaining because he has to pay as much for Washington apples as for B. C. apples and he blames the 50c duty on apples for this state of affairs. We think it is remembered that, only a short time ago it was shown Manitoba apple dealers were soaking the consumers of that province six dollars a barrel for apples which cost them 70c a barrel in Ontario, the people will take this last complaint very seriously.

Weasles are now added to the list of wild animals caught by hunters in the game preserve six miles east of Redcliff. That should be a good spot to go to in search of prairie chickens next month.

Carried a Cow To Feed the Twins

You never can tell about stories coming from Denver. There's something in the Colorado air that stimulates the imagination. However, according to a Denver dispatch, Jerry Cow is touring the country in an automobile. It happened in this way: A New York woman was visiting in Colorado when she gave birth to twins. Her husband after preparing to take her and the twins home in his car when he found himself face to face with the milk problem. The mother was afraid to take the chance of changing the babies' milk continually on the way back to New York. So father went and bought the cow that was providing the milk, got an automobile trailer such as is sometimes used by motorists to carry a camping outfit, only larger, hooked up the trailer to his car, loaded it heavy into it, and gathered up the wife and twins and set out. At last reports the family and dairy were moving across Kansas at a lively rate. That certainly beats a tin cow. However, if that automobile happens to be like some of those in the "billboard-bus" roads in these parts, those twins must be getting milk-shakes for lunch and butter-milk for supper, and busy must be feeling very automobiles by this time.—Calgary News-Telegram.

WEIGHING HAY IN STACK.

Difficulties experienced by farmers in ascertaining the amount of hay in a stack have occasioned the issuing of a bulletin by the state agricultural experimental station of Washington, giving a rule whereby the number of tons in a stack may be approximately learned. The rule is: Width over, divided by four and squared, then multiplied by the length and divided by 512. Assuming that a stack was 18 feet wide, 26 over (distance from ground on one side up over the stack and to the ground on the other side) and 30 feet long, the solution would be: 18 plus 26 equals 44; 44 divided by four equals 11; 11 squared equals 121; 121 times 30 equals 3,630 cubic feet; in stacks 2,500 divided by 512 equals 7.09 tons. Perhaps the rule will save many a puzzling problem for farmers when they wish to sell their hay in the stack.

TINELY HINTS

Fruit pies can be prevented from getting over while the baking if you add a teaspoonful of cornstarch to the fruit. Sweeten the fruit to taste, add the cornstarch and heat before adding the milk or cream.

Milk or cream when used in combination with tomato can be kept from curdling by adding a bit of bicarbonate of soda before mixing. A small quantity of bicarbonate of soda, stirred into milk or cream, will keep it from curdling in hot water.

When patty cases are placed in the oven too soon after being out of the fryer they are unsightly and contracted when baked. After they are placed on the baking tin they should be left in a cool place for a few minutes.

Sweetheart by New Name

Certain words apply a popularity for a season, and then are rarely heard. "Beau," for instance, dates a long way back, and was in vogue some very many years ago; yet some few old-fashioned people retain it to this day when referring to a young man who is supposed to be paying attention to a girl. A recognized term of today is "admirer," and subsequently, when things have changed to a climax, "lover," but rarely "beau."

LATEST JOKE ON THE KILNITES.

It was in a little out-of-the-way village in France, and the Highland was swinging along the road (says the Sporting Times). Two old Frenchmen, obviously puzzled by their own time, were having a heated argument on the same.

He said: "Zey cannot be for look at de dress and de skirt!" Replied the other: "Zey cannot be for look at de dress and de skirt!"

"Ah!" replied the first speaker "I have it. Zey are de famous Middle-eastern residents of whom I have heard so much!"

WOMEN WHO HAVE MADE GOOD IN BUSINESS LIFE

Rising From Humble Position to One of Exceeding Wealth Has Been Recorded of But Few Women

Women are more often credited with the spending of money than the making of it, and yet they have been many instances where women have either built up a big business and a fortune at the same time, or have accumulated one which was at a very low ebb.

One notable example is that of Madame Parson, the widow of the famous Parisian dressmaker, who conducts a world-wide connection with the utmost confidence and success, and was only denied the Legion of Honor on account of her sex and the lack of any precedent on that score.

Take another instance. Mrs. Andrew knew little or nothing of work of any kind outside her home. When her husband, the head of a big business, became seriously ill, and the business threatened to collapse, but she set herself to save the situation and master every detail of the business. The fame of her work was such that even the United States Government ordered avails, not only for its employees all over the country, but also for the expenditure of thousands of dollars at a moment's notice.

A friend to her employees. But, keen as she is on business, she gave time to improve herself and her workers, and she is able to say: "There isn't a man in my employment that I don't know, and my family I don't know—my children and dog." Perhaps therein lies the secret of her success.

Miss Alice Durkin, of New York, is a master builder and architect, and undertakes anything from a church to a dining room and from a house to a hospital. She entered an office as a young girl, and whilst her colleagues were discussing salaries and chocolate and maddies, she was studying specifications and mastering plans, and now her best monuments are to be seen in the great public schools at Manhattan, which she has erected. She has carried out contracts for the construction of the amount of a million dollars, and is frequently called upon to make decisions involving the expenditure of thousands of dollars at a moment's notice.

Highest Salaried Woman. The woman to insure before to earn the largest salary in America is Miss Rose Corne, whose judgment on all matters of art is implicitly trusted by the leading American manufacturers. It is said that on the twentieth anniversary of her engagement as a cataloguer girl she was presented with $20,000.

An actress, who abandoned the stage to open a store of interior decoration as a house decorator, succeeded beyond the dreams of avarice, and does an income of some $100,000 annually from her business, which is considered the best of its kind in America.

ISSUE PRICE 97½

A FULL HALF-YEAR'S INTEREST WILL BE PAID ON 1st APRIL, 1917.
THE PROCEEDS OF THE LOAN WILL BE USED FOR WAR PURPOSES ONLY.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers herewith, on behalf of the Government, the above named Bonds for subscription at 97½, payable as follows:

10 per cent on application;
30 " " 16th October, 1916;
30 " " 16th November, 1916;
2½ " " 15th December, 1916.

The total allotment of bonds of this issue will be limited to one hundred million dollars exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds at the equivalent of cash under the terms of the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915.

The instalments may be paid in full on the 16th day of October, 1916, or on any instalment due date thereafter, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

This loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the October instalment.

Serial certificates, non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the serial certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds, when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of serial certificates and of bonds will be made through the chartered banks.

The issue will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $50, $1,000. Fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, or Victoria.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Recognized bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their stamp, provided, however, that no commission will be allowed in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications on forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 23rd September, 1916.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, OTTAWA, September 12th, 1916.

The Retort Unexpected

It was a case of assault, and the counsel was unmercifully bullying the witness he was cross-examining. "You say the defendant threw a stone at the plaintiff," he said. "How big was the stone?" "Oh, it was a good-sized stone," was the vague reply. "Was it as big as my fist?" "Bigger." "Was it as big as both my fists?" "Bigger." "Was it as big as my head?" The witness looked doubtful. "It was as big," he said slowly, at last, "but it wasn't so thick!"

His Reason

The village grocer advertised for an errand boy, aged fourteen. While Green applied for the post, and got it, but when he had been there a week, he approached his "boss," and said anxiously: "I hope you'll give me a good character, sir, for my last job." "Certainly," answered the grocer. "But surely you're not leaving me at ready?"

"Yes, sir; I must." "But why, boy?" "Well, sir, you only want a boy of fourteen, and I shall be fifteen to-morrow."

Munificence

There is keen rivalry between Dible and Drift, two seedsmen in a certain country town, and each does everything he can think of to "cut" the other.

The other day, Dible put a big notice up in his shop window: "With every plant we give a packet of seeds."

Drift was not to be outdone. With in a few minutes he had placarded his shop front with a glaring announcement, saying: "With every plant we give the earth."

LESSON OF GREAT BRITAIN

"MAY HAVE TO BE LEARNED." "If it becomes necessary to save the empire that more men are needed and will not voluntarily go, the lesson of Great Britain will have to be learned in Canada. This is a war in which decisive victory must be won. The liberties of Canada are more precious than your life or mine, and if necessary we must lay down our lives on the altar," said Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, while addressing a large audience at Saskatoon.

Wait For Father

A little lad was desperately ill, but refused to take the medicine the doctor prescribed. His mother finally gave up. "Oh, my boy will die!" she sobbed. Presently a voice piped up from the bed. "Don't cry, mother; father'll be home soon, and he'll make me take it."
